References

1. All references to literature cited in support of your statements should be mentioned within the text in parentheses with only the surname of the author and the year of publication. No punctuation is to be used between the name and the year (For example: Wheeler 1954).
2. If you are quoting an author or referring to a specific point in his/her contribution, then the actual page number(s) should be mentioned. A colon should be used between year and page number (For example: Wheeler 1954: 14).
3. If the name of the author already occurs in the text, immediately before the citation, then only the year of publication and page number should be mentioned in parentheses (For example: B.B. Lal (1961:27) is of the opinion that....).
4. If the reference cited has two authors, surnames of both should be given (For example: Lal and Gupta 1984). If the reference has more than two authors, only the surname of the first author followed by et al. should be given in the text (For example: Sankalia et al. ...).
5. All references should be arranged under the heading 'REFERENCES' at the end of the text alphabetically and chronologically in the manner explained below.

Notes

1. Notes should be avoided as far as possible. But if they are absolutely essential, they should be numbered serially in arabic numerals inside the text just above the text line at the appropriate place.
2. All notes should be arranged serially at the end of the text.

Illustrations

1. All Illustrations are accepted in digital format (jpg) in preferably condensed files (tif).
2. Illustrations should be designated as Figures and numbered in arabic numerals as Fig.1., Fig.2., and so on, in the order which they occur in the text.
3. All illustrations should be accompanied with proper source information and credits.
4. Where possible, orientation of the illustrations should be shown with an arrow.
5. Captions to illustrations should be typed on a separate sheet, at the end of the manuscript.
